

Hilton London Bankside scoops two wins at the World Travel Awards

The design-led hotel wins Europe's Leading Business Hotel 2018 and Europe's Leading MICE Hotel 2018.

Hilton London Bankside, the London design hotel, has scooped up two awards at the 25th annual World Travel Awards which took place in Athens, Greece. Recognised for its outstanding corporate products and offering, Hilton London Bankside won Europe's Leading Business Hotel 2018 and Europe's Leading MICE Hotel 2018.

Competing against 16 other properties in the Europe's Leading Business Hotel 2018 category, and 15 in the category for Europe's Leading MICE Hotel 2018, both wins serve as a nod towards Hilton London Bankside's contribution to the corporate sector. The hotel is home to the largest ballroom in the neighbourhood, holding up to 700 people at 570 m<sup>2</sup> and boasts a grand sweeping staircase, contemporary chandeliers and a balcony.

As well as private events, the space has previously been booked for large scale conferences and gala dinners including the Master InnHolders Conference, The Renault Dealer Conference, ICMIF Conference, Calypso Client Conference and Sports Women Of The Year Awards by News UK. Hilton London Bankside will also play host to the Hilton International Showcase on 4th July which gives attendees the opportunity to experience the Hilton International portfolio of brands in a playful, circus-themed setting. Additionally, the property boasts a range of high-tech meeting and conference rooms, located on the same floor and managed by an expert team of meeting and events planners.

General Manager of Hilton London Bankside, James B. Clarke comments: "We are humbled by these fantastic award wins and are delighted to see recognition for the entire team at Hilton London Bankside. We live by the motto – 'one team, one dream, Bankside' and these awards are testament to that. With 292 guests rooms in a centrally located area of London, we are in a strong position to not only offer sterling conference facilities for visitors, but also provide corporate guests with a bed to lay their head at night."

Offering in-house catering for small and large-scale events, Hilton London Bankside gives Chef Paul Bates creative license with his dishes, experimenting with international influences and traditional British dishes to offer a twist on classic favourites. Food and drinks packages are available on request and can cater corporate events from 8 to 700 people. Overnight guests also have the opportunity to sample the famous Hilton London Bankside breakfasts in the hotel's restaurant – OXBO - which include everything from quinoa pancakes, to traditional English breakfasts to kick-start the day.
